“Ivory through the Ages: Connections and More”

Presented by Robert Weisblut

Mr. Weisblut plans to give a lecture detailing the overall historical and commercial use of ivory through the ages. He will explain what exactly constitutes ivory, what animals are used for these purposes, and give examples of what kind of ivory can be found at archaeological sites (particularly sites in Florida). There will be a hands-on display, allowing you to get a “feel” for such artifacts.

Please feel free to bring any ivory objects you might like examined and quell your curiosity!

This is the end of our lecture series for the season

But don't worry, we will be back in the Fall with another round of entertaining and informative lectures. Don't miss out! Be sure to add your e-mail to our contact list. We will keep you updated about upcoming events and look forward to seeing you in fall!

Volunteer Opportunities

Since the summer is field season there will undoubtedly be volunteer opportunities in the area. We will be sure to keep you up to date on any upcoming local projects.

Additionally, there is still an abundance of artifacts that need cataloguing from the Dubois Park excavations. This is a great opportunity to learn unique lab-skills, including sorting, measuring, and identifying materials.

If you would like to volunteer, please contact us!
